The morning was sunny and crisp and cool as we headed down highway 67 toward Grand Canyon. A deer bounded across the road. Some cattle grazed between burnt tree trunks. A lonely UPS truck came and went.

We passed Kaibab Lodge and the North Rim Country Store and headed west on National Forest 22.

Then left on NF 206, right on NF 214, right on NF 272, left on NF 425, right on NF 292.

Look what we found.

That was Crazy Jug Point, a pullout on NF 292.

Further along 292 was the trailhead to Monument Point.

Duct tape has so many uses.

Monument Point

Drove to Page, AZ.
The end.
