The Grand Canyon!
Symbol of America!
We are Proud!

We are here at the North Rim for a 4-day immersion in our favorite place on the planet. We are not alone. Visitors from all over come to experience awesomeness in 100 languages. Americans, too, flock to see this glorious sight. They bring their children; they bring their cameras; they create lasting memories for all to share.

And we were almost brought to tears by what we experienced while waiting for our room. Little Krieger and his family.

"Krieger! Look at mommy!"

"Krieger! Sit still!"

"Dammit he went through that hole. Go get him."

So the guy risked his life on the other side of that wall to turn Krieger around and reunite him with his family. Good job, Daddy. Our fingers were poised to call 911 but we couldn't see the numbers for our tears.

You will get this email if:

- 1) Our cell phone hot spot works, or
 - 2) We drove to the campground store to use their wifi.
- If that's the case there will be no more postcards for several days. Sorry!
