We went driving in our warm car today. Look up Dillon Pinnacles to see the eye catching geological outcrop to which we did not hike.

Ohio City Ghost Town

That's pretty much it.

On the way back you might catch Indian Head Rock...

Crested Butte People Town

On the way up you might catch this guy...

And see:

Icicles

A Peak

Slush

A Flower

Paradise

The chile-cheese omelet, while not a New Mexico artform, can really be good. And there it was, on the menu in Paradise. You might expect us to have been more guarded and circumspect, but together we looked up from the menu and our eyes met. Yes! Go for it! Bring us two!

They were fantastic.
